THE XMAS
STORE

SANTA CLAUS VS. KEITH-O'BRIEN COMPANY.

Our exclusive gift-giving novelties are characterized by the most refined styles, perfect workmanship and faultless selection.

The absolute readiness of our splendid stocks for gift-seekers is due to a determination to be again recognized as the leader in holiday merchandising. That which completes these immense assortments of gift-goods is the fact that reasonable prices in every instance prevail.

We pursue an aggressive policy—very apparent at Christmas times.

In matters of style and price-advantage our cloak and suit section sets the pace.

It was a tremendous following that we had last December. The great throngs that surged through our spacious aisles will be recalled—as nothing like it had been seen in Salt Lake before. We believe there will be an increased outpouring of eager gift-seekers—that our broad aisles will be more greatly taxed—that more enthusiasm will mark the sales—that a more overwhelming Christmas business will be vouchsafed us this season than last year.

The Basement is certain to draw thousands of children to toyland.

By Christmas eve last year everything in the way of toys had been sold. Our toy business fairly swept the city.

KEITH - O'BRIEN
STORE

SANTA CLAUS VS. KEITH-O'BRIEN COMPANY.

Synonymous names—and our exhibit of toys and other gift-giving things is the dash that unites them.

No demonstration in all of the West will equal our showing of Christmas merchandise.

Ten thousand things will delight the children—and Santa Claus will greet them. Bring the little ones.

We led the toy trade last year. We have made greater preparation for the coming holidays. Our store has been converted into a veritable toyland.

For Presents—Beautiful more satin and satin regency silk belts with exquisite gold, silver, jet and pearl buckles set with the prevailing store ornamentations.

This season shows many new inventions in toys. Toys were never sold as low in price as those that mark ours.

New goods give a Christmas aspect to the store.

The best patterns are the McCall patterns—and that's why we handle them.

A very satisfactory mail order business is being established. An experienced shopper takes advantage of every bargain for out-of-town customers who just write—and tell their needs.

High prices are never associated with this store. It was all a mistake, and those who started the report in our early existence are now repenting their grievous ways.

Our two popular cut-prices, $2.95 and $3.95 for boys' clothing, are winners. Some of the values run as high as $4.50.

Elaborate preparations are being made to meet the overwhelming trade that will soon be upon us.

It's no wonder interest centers in the moderately priced headwear now on sale. There is a touch of fashion in the modest productions found only in the higher priced hats. The line—$3.50 to $7.00—is certainly beautiful. We are only too glad to show them.

Little house furnishings at little prices than you are used to draw a steady flow of shoppers to the Basement section.

There is always a generous response to our ads, because we tell the simple truth.

The store is assuming a holiday aspect. Exquisite novelties are finding place in the beautiful displays.

From now on the little ones will be interested in this store. We had never great times together last holiday season.
